Welcome to innovate

Welcome to the sixth edition of our new, monthly innovate publication. Each month innovate will update you on the latest innovative products from the leading bathroom and washroom brands in the UK.

For over 120 years Neville Lumb has been providing bathroom and washroom solutions for all types of projects across the UK. Our portfolio of leading brands, flexibility, competitive prices, national coverage and expert knowledge and advice has led to us working on some of the most iconic buildings throughout London and the UK.

Let us help you. Our experienced national sales team, specification managers and designers are on hand to visit you to discuss current or potential projects, and can provide the following services free of charge:

- Create specifications to budgets
- Confirm the compatibility of different products and brands
- Check availability of products
- Supply samples, swatches and technical data
- Create high resolution 2D & 3D designs and 4D virtual bathroom experience

If you're in London, why not visit our design offices in Clerkenwell, our Designer, Rocio and Specification Manager, Jonathan would be delighted to meet with you and discuss your requirements over a coffee. We can even invite the manufacturer for their input.

Our fourth Neville Lumb 'inspire' event was held on 22nd September 2016 on the roof top gardens of our office in Kirby Street, Clerkenwell.

The Neville Lumb event sponsored by Crosswater included free food and drinks along with an art demonstration and exhibition by Jay Price. Local DJ Chris Geisler provided the music from his vinyl record collection while guests enjoyed views across the London skyline. The successful evening provided Architects and Designers a relaxed environment to network and learn more about Neville Lumb and its FREE bathroom specification service.

Inspire events are running throughout the year and demand for tickets is high for these exclusive events.

Next date: 27th October.

A WHOLE BATHROOM FROM A SINGLE SOURCE?

Possibilities are endless when it comes to the unique versatility of the wedi building boards.

Whether it's a complete bathroom, individual wash basins, a creative shower structure or special individual constructions, almost any idea can be brought to life with the structural panels from wedi. They do not only offer waterproofness and thermal insulation but also can be tailored to desired shapes and designs.

wedi is running training courses for industry professionals every month. The wedi Approved Partner course is accredited by NCFE and in-depth practical and theoretical knowledge of wedi product systems and their installation methods.

A sensitive tap that can handle the big crowds

Saving water, saving money and making a positive contribution to BREEAM assessments.

The Hydro, Glasgow's newest entertainment venue, and a city landmark, with a seating capacity of 12,000, will play host to 140 events a year, attracting over one million spectators.

The London-based architects Foster & Partners chose to install Dolphin Infra-red Sensor taps. These WRAS-approved taps aren't just stylish, they go a long way to help conserve water, reduce a building's carbon footprint and have a low environmental impact that helps make a positive contribution to BREEAM assessments.

Transforming Britain's bathrooms

All that time and effort that designers put into creating beautiful bathrooms can be undone with a single last minute addition: the grab rail. All of sudden those elegant lines and exquisite features can be compromised by the clinical addition of an essential safety feature.

But not any more

Inclusive Concepts by Nick Gontar is a revolutionary new technique that allows you to style grab rails, towel rails, radiators, door handles and even taps with unique designs that can integrate bathroom accessories into an overall style concept.

Incorporating logos and colourful highlights

"Imagine what you can do" says Nick, as he displays a plethora of different designs on grab rails.

"As an upmarket hotel chain, you can now subtly style bathrooms with your brand while enhancing safety. In private residential developments, adding colourful highlights can become a sales feature. Architects can enhance themes from the overall design through to the tiniest details in the smallest rooms in the house."

From clinical to joyful

Although the technique has almost endless applications, Nick says it is the growing market in grab rails that initially inspired him.

"Millions of people in the UK have mobility issues and realise they need a grab rail for safety. But the minute you add a grab rail you change a family bathroom into something more clinical. Making the grab rail a style feature has the opposite effect. Instead of reminding someone of their frailty, it can brighten the room and put a smile on their face."

A durable, hygienic finish

The Inclusive Concepts technique can take almost any design and 'print' it onto almost any material. The finish is fully sealed, completely hygienic and does not affect the original texture or finish of the article being treated.

"Grab rails provide just as much grip as ever. In fact we can enhance safety by using luminous glow in the dark finishes or personal designs that mean something to the individual using them, making them more likely to grab attention."

The Inclusive Concepts technique can be applied to thousands of items to cover a chain of restaurants for example, or just a few choice pieces to enhance a single home.

What could you do?

From institutions like hospitals, care homes and schools to commercial applications such as hotels, restaurants, bars and clubs or private high-end residential developments, Nick says that Inclusive Concepts is a flexible style tool that he hopes the industry will embrace.

"This is a brand new development. Something that wouldn't have been possible, even a year ago. We're looking forward to talking to all kinds of professionals, from architects and designers to retailers and developers to help transform Britain's bathrooms."
